

The Department of Land Transport announced that Thailand is set to use an online phone application for drivers licenses, DLT Smart License, starting in January 2019. The electronic drivers license will link the drivers information on the app, and then the driver is able to show the phone app to the police instead of showing a printed card. Moreover, there is a system that will warn the license holder when the expiration date is coming. (18/12/2018)
